

PIPRZ*

[*All dialogue authentically blawn.]

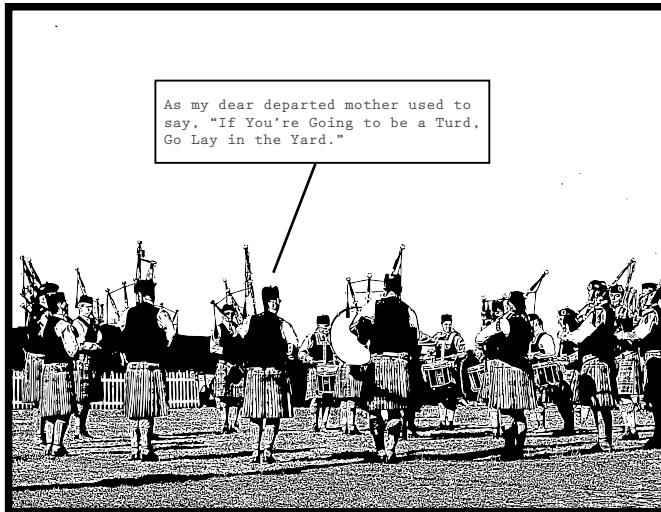

It seems that no matter what i do, there is always a mediocre piper lurking in the shadows ready to tell me that what I'm doing is against "what piping is about." I'd come in having just transposed Ozzie's "Crazy Train" guitar solo with a good harmony part and then it was shot down by these supposed know it alls.

One of my acid tests is to ask myself, "Would John MacDonald of Inverness use/do _____?"

Don't get coerced by them don't let them get to you or else you'll wind up just like them. And when they say "what the hell was that." you look smile and bang out some "Crazy Train."

As my dear departed mother used to say, "If You're Going to be a Turd, Go Lay in the Yard."

Copyright © by Vincent Janoski